Answer: (5)

Q.7 Not only the (a)/ students but also (2)/ the principal were (3)/ laughing at the joke he cracked. (4) / No error (5)

Answer: (3)

Solution Q.1 - Q.7:

Solution 1: There is an error in part (1) of the sentence in place of “believe” we will use “believed”.

Solution 2: There is an error in part (3) of the sentence.

In place of “am” we will use “was” because the events of the sentences are in the past

Solution 3: Use “hanged” in place of “hung”

Solution 4: There is no error in the sentence

Solution 5: There is an error in part (2) of the sentence. Use “to succeed” in place of “to be successful” because after determined” we use “to infinitive”.

Solution 6: There is no error in the sentence

Solution 7: Replace ‘were’ with ‘was’.

When two subjects are joined by ‘not only...but also’, the verb must agree with the second subject. The correct sentence should be: “Not only the students but also the principal was laughing at the joke he cracked.”

The same rule applies when two subjects are joined by ‘or’, the verb must agree with the second subject.

For e.g. Krish and his brothers were there. (Second subject is ‘plural’)

Mohan or Sohan is responsible for this (Second Subject is ‘singular’)

Directions Q.8 - Q.12: In each of the following sentences, there is a blank space. Below in each sentence, there are five words out of which one can be used to fill the blank to make the sentence grammatically and coherently correct. Find the most appropriate word that fit into the blank contextually.

Q.8 There is nothing to indicate the building’s past,_____the fireplace

1. Except
2. Included
3. Belonged

5. Invited

Answer: (2)

Q.12 Raipur despite being _____ between two rivers, the Krishna and the Tungabhadra, it is a dust bowl in May first week.

1. Surrounded

2. Located
3. Revealed
4. Settle
5. None of these.

Answer: (2)

Solutions Q.8 - Q.12

Solution 8: “Except” which means “not including” is the word which should fit the blank

Solution 9: “Rejoiced” which means to feel or show great joy or delight will fit the blank most appropriately

Solution 10: Here, “permits” which means “officially allow (someone) to do something” perfectly fits in the given blank making the sentence grammatically correct and contextually meaningful. Hence, option (4) is the most suitable answer choice.

Coverts: a thicket in which game can hide.

Implements: put (a decision, plan, agreement, etc) into effect

Emits: Produce and discharge (something, especially gas or radiation)

Deserts: What a person deserves with regard to reward or (more usually) punishment.

Solution 11: Here, “encouraged” which means “give support, confidence, or hope to (someone)” perfectly fits in the given blank making the sentence grammatically correct and contextually meaningful. Hence, option (b) is the most suitable answer choice.

Fascinated: Strongly attracted and interested

Discouraged: Having lost confidence or enthusiasm; disheartened

Harvested: gather (a crop) as a harvested

Invited: Make a formal or polite request for (something) from someone

Solution 12: ‘Surrounded’ should be followed by ‘By’ or ‘with’, hence it is an incorrect option. Also, option (4) is grammatically incorrect and option (3) doesn’t make a meaningful sentence. So, option (2) is the only option which makes the sentence both meaningfully and grammatically correct. Hence, option (2) is the most suitable answer choice.

Directions Q.23 - Q.30: Read the following passage and answer the following questions based on the given passage. Some of the words are highlighted which would help you to answer some of the questions given.

For years, worldwide organisations have become increasingly excited about the prospect of a cloud-based future. As the dream becomes an even closer reality for many kinds of business and, Forrester predicted that enterprise spending on cloud services is set to surge. IDC also predicted that global spending on public cloud services and infrastructure would reach $ 210 Billion in 2019, an increase of 24% from 2018. But one obstacle stands to create friction and introduce a risk: the process of migration.

As all indications point to a massive shift in data deployments to the cloud, it is more important than ever that the transition from on-premises to cloud is as risk-free as possible. In today's climate, any loss or disruption to data can have a huge business impact. It's a complex process, is frequently underestimated and many organisations have found there are lots of that can go wrong that can impact the business.

Organisations across the globe have found the cloud to be an ideal place to run modern data applications due to Big Data's elastic resource requirements. Furthermore, with the lack of data talent an ever-looming issue for most companies today they have been determined to adopt a cloud-first strategy to ensure business operations are accessible for a range of employees.

The cloud offers great promise for developers especially, as it can increase the speed at which they develop software features and increase the resilience of applications once they are deployed - along with enhanced security through the use of multiple server locations. With all this considered, it is no surprise that 42% of UK businesses leverage some kind of cloud service, according to Eurostat.

However, all the perceived benefits of leveraging the cloud are redundant if organisations come up against barriers to accessing cloud services. Cloud-based data pipelines still suffer from complexity challenges at the moment, along with the lack of visibility into cost and resource usage at the application and user level. The answer to this is automation, fuelled by robust Machine Learning training models and artificial intelligence. These concepts and the tools that enable them can determine the prerequisites of cloud infrastructure, application dependencies, the appropriate target cloud instance profiles, and provide troubleshooting in real-time.

To summarise, the promise of the cloud has created a sense of excitement amongst enterprises, however, they have proceeded to go full steam ahead into adopting a cloud service, without sufficient data to ensure performance service level agreements (SLA).

Q 23. How can we tackle the risks associated with the process of migration?

1. By ensuring that organisations only migrate the apps to the cloud that will thrive in the cloud.
2. The surge in the investment in cloud technology.
3. The use of predictive power of Artificial Intelligence
4. The transition from on-premises to Cloud.
5. None of these.

Answer: 3

Q.24 Why the promise of the cloud has created a sense of excitement amongst enterprises?

1. As it ensures that business operations are accessible for a range of employees.
2. As the enterprise spending on cloud services is surging.
3. Reduction in the cost of operation it may entail.
4. The secure platform it provides to the data it stores.
5. None of these.

Answer: 1

Q.25 How the process of migration stands as an obstacle to cloud technology?

1. The expensive cost of providing safety to the data.
2. The lack of sound technology in Artificial Intelligence.
3. Complexities of the data migrated to the cloud.
4. It exposes companies to the risk of losing important information.
5. None of these.

Answer: 4

Q.26 Which of the following statement(s) is/are correct in the context of the passage?

- A. The cloud technology can help in increasing the speed at which the software features are developed.
- B. There is no risk associated with cloud technology.
- C. Cloud technology is not a very complex process.

1. Only B
2. Both (A) and (B).
3. Only C
4. Only A
5. All are correct.

Answer: 4

Q.27 What is the meaning of “full steam ahead”?

4. Weaken
5. Reject

Answer: 1

Q.30 Which of the following words is most opposite to the word “massive” as given in the passage?

1. Prominent
2. Insignificant
3. Enlarged
4. Filthy
5. Vouch

Answer: 2

Solutions Q.23 - Q.30

Solution 23: Refer the last few lines of the 5th paragraph of the passage, “The answer to this automation fueled by robust Machine learning training models and artificial intelligence..... Provide troubleshooting in real-time”.

Solution 24:

Refer the 3rd paragraph of the passage, “Furthermore, with the lack of data talent an..... ensure business operations are accessible for a range of employees

Solution 25: Refer to the 2nd line of the 2nd paragraph of the passage, “In today’s climate any loss or disruption of data can have a huge business impact

Solution 26:

Statement (1) is correct. Refer the 4th paragraph of the passage, “The cloud offers great promise for developers..... the use of multiple server locations

Solution 27:

If something such as a plan or a project goes full steam ahead, it progresses quickly.

Solution 28:

Embrace means accepting (a belief, theory or change) willingly and enthusiastically hence it is similar in meaning to adopt.

Solution 29:

Ensure means to make something that (something) will occur or be the case hence confirm is the word which is most similar in meaning.

Solution 30:

Massive means exceptionally large hence insignificant is the word which is most opposite in meaning
